

Fly with me

Mila Valova

Called “Fly with me”, the art installation has the aim to preserve the style of the original building, keeping the connection between God and human. Instead of remodeling the ordinary church, this concept is attached to one of the symbols of God namely the butterflies.

It is believed that the butterfly is selected from God to be one of his creatures that gives us signs of the God’s will for our lives because its metamorphosis or transformation from caterpillar to butterfly resembles the rebirth of Jesus Christ.

introduction

he concept is created also for people who are fond of butterflies to have a chance to observe these beautiful creatures closely. Even though they are not real, the small-scale drones can make the visitors feel they are in a real butterfly house. This is also could be translated as a familiar space with an unfamiliar purpose.

There are four paths that lead to four different big butterflies. Each of them has specific meaning and can fulfill wishes. Their colour is decisive for their symbolism.

On the floor around the ramps smaller butterflies are designed to lead the visitors to the big butterflies, sparkling under them and creating the atmosphere even more exciting.

Rare Redeye Flat Butterfly -

Orange-brown in colour. Brown symbolizes a divine intervention, an important message waiting for you from the heavens. Orange, on the other hand, is associated with passion and can remind you of your goals, especially at a time when you are distracted.

Blue Morphos – one of the largest butterflies in the world with a wingspan reaching up to 203 mm. To see that butterfly is a big challenge but once you meet it, it is believed that you will have a wish granted. The blue color symbolizes calm and healing.

Green-Banded Swallowtail – the green colour symbolize success, wealth, and prosperity. Because of its colour it can be said that this butterfly represents the balance between the masculine and feminine nature and brings the message of “don’t tread on me”.

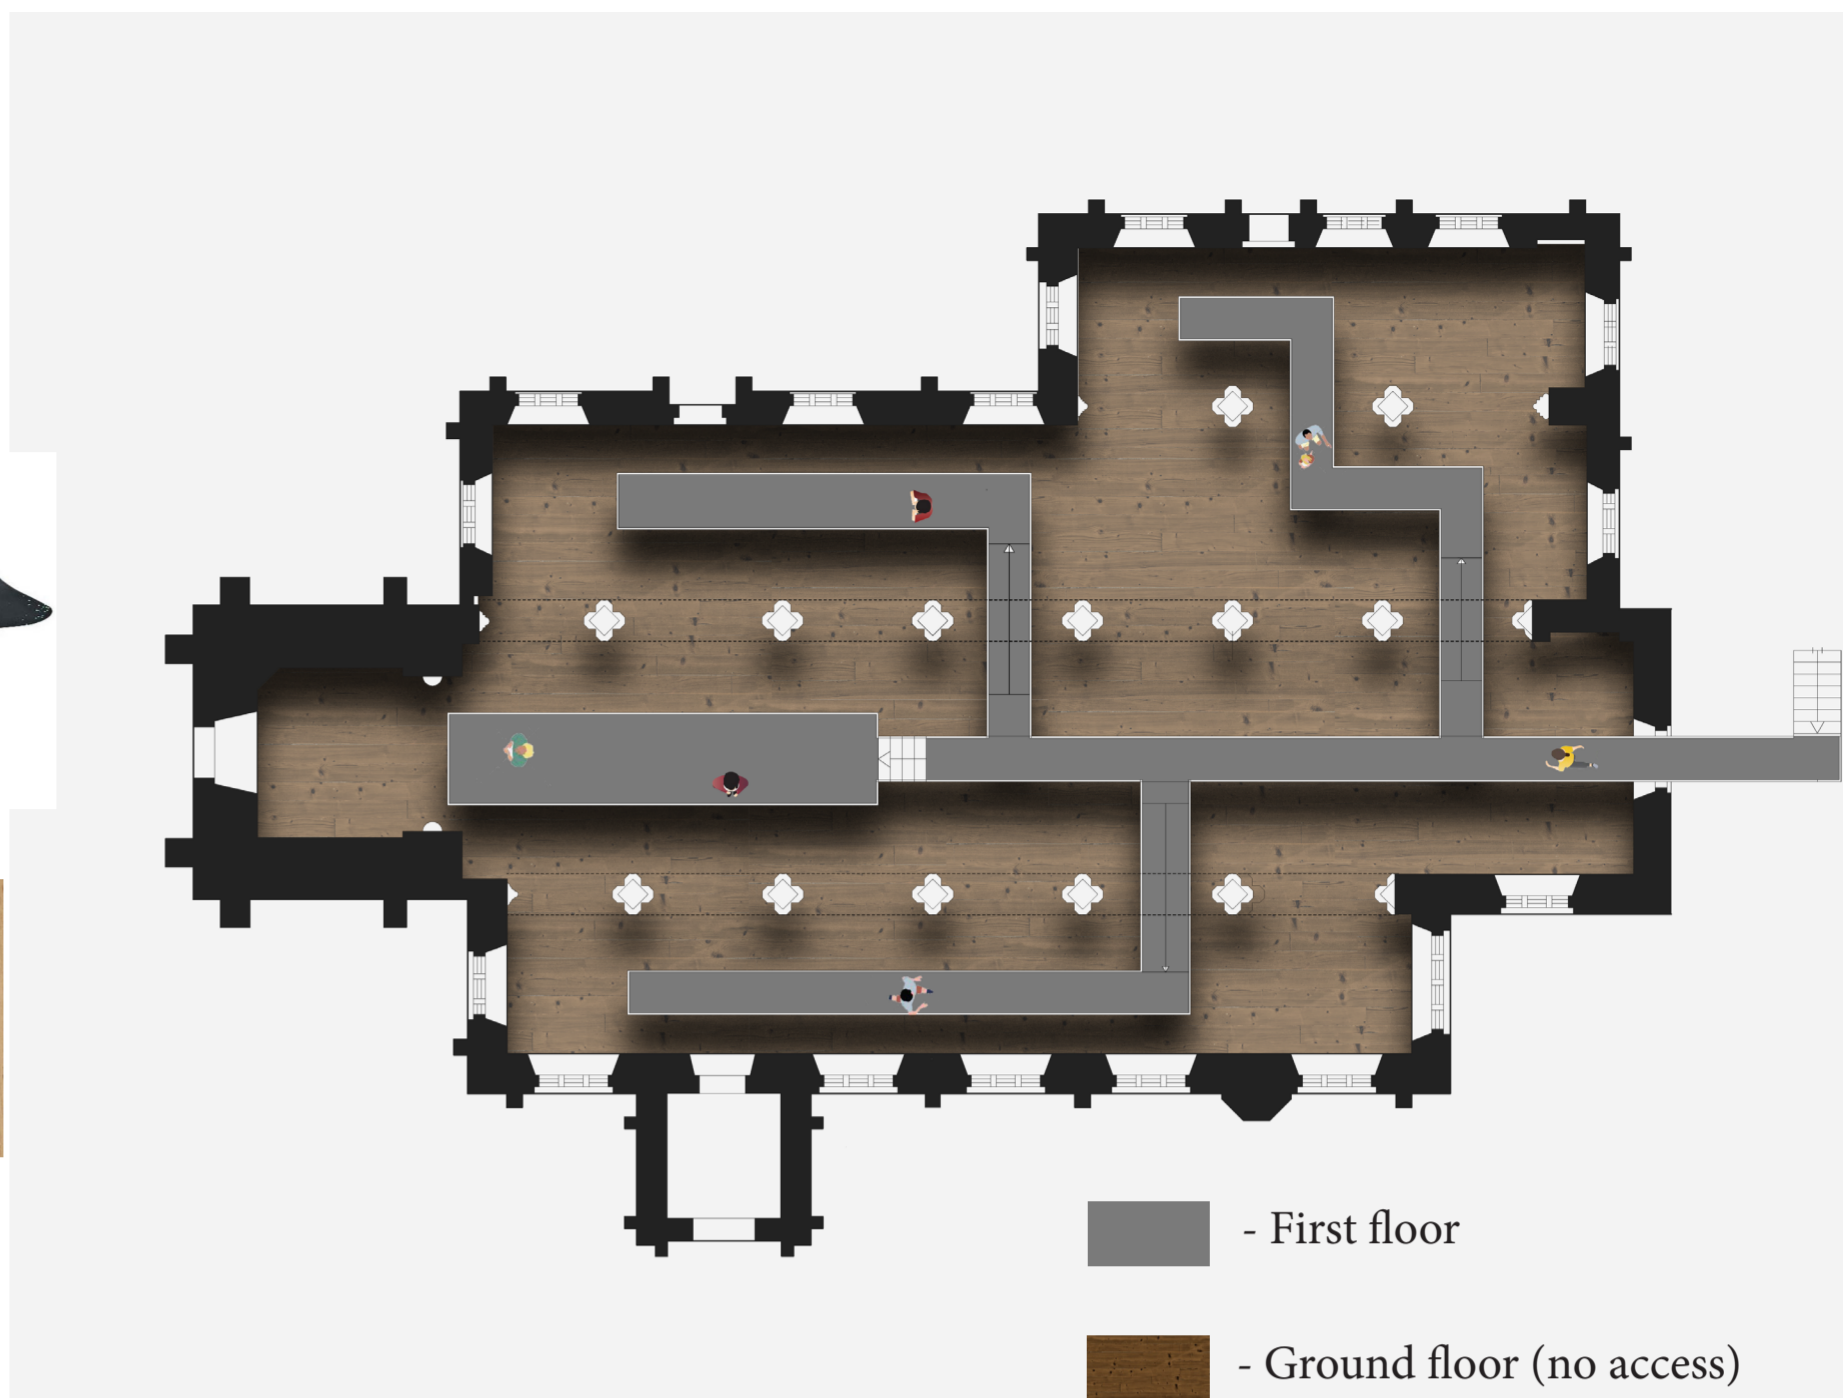

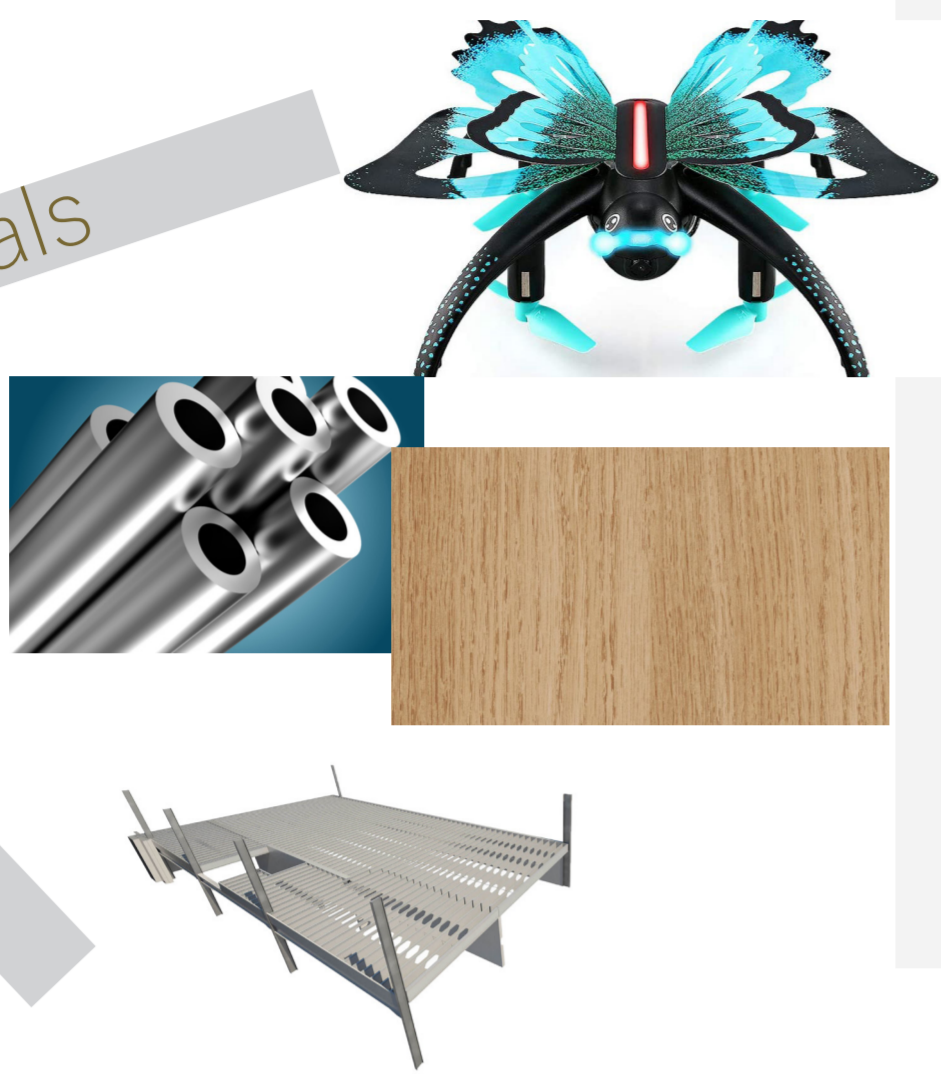

Purple butterfly – they are the rarest butterflies indeed. It is considered that when you see a purple butterfly that means you will experience a deep connection between yourself and the universe around you.
