

The Magpie Collective

The Magpie Collective is a hostel based in the city centre of Dundee. It is designed to bring together an eclectic mix of design and decoration styles to complement the diverse collection of people passing through. The hostel aims to create a place of community, connection and hospitality for those who are travelling through Dundee. By taking inspiration from birds (Social Weavers) and about the similarities between birds and humans when travelling the building allows the visitors to commune together in a communal Nestscape before retiring to their own 'nesting box' to relax and sleep. The central Nestscape within the building creates a suspended rest area and a playful way of traversing between the floors of the building like a bird traversing a tree or its social nest. This playful nature is displayed throughout the building, creating a wealth of memory-making and social media-worthy areas.
