Concept:

"Laugh Out Loud: A Hilarious Adventure" transforms Leicester's historic 'Eastgates Coffee House, now Tim Horton's, into a dynamic, multi-floor entertainment hub in collaboration with the Leicester Comedy Festival. This project addresses social, political, and economic shifts by promoting mental health and community connection through the power of laughter.

By repurposing a historic building, the project revitalises this cultural landmark, supports economic growth, and enhances community engagement in the city centre. The strategic use of colours, including 'happiness-inducing' yellow accents, guides visitors through the space, enriching their emotional response and experience.

Targeting a diverse demographic, "Laugh Out Loud" offers stress relief, social bonding, and a unique cultural experience, making it a beacon of joy and unity in the heart of the city.
